REV. FATHER WALSH DEAD

REV. FATHER WALSH

Permanent Rector of Church of the Immaculate Conception Died From Heart Trouble at Noon.

It becomes our sad duty to announce the death of the Rev. Edward J. Walsh, P. R., of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at noon today. For several days he had been complaining of a slight illness which did not keep him from his duties and he was about, assisting in all the services. Today, following the solemn high mass which marked the closing of the Forty Hours' Devotion, his condition took a sudden change, and he continued to grow worse. Just previous to the noon hour, medical aid was summoned but he passed away before the arrival of the physician. Death was due to heart trouble.

Rev. Father Walsh was appointed as permanent rector of this parish in July, 1907, succeeding the late Patrick J. Finnegan.

He was a native of Providence, and was born May 28, 1854, one of nine children of John and Elizabeth (McGrath) Walsh. He graduated from the Jesuit College, Montreal, in 1876, and the following year from the Grand Seminary at Montreal. He was ordained by Bishop Fabre in 1880, and was stationed at St. Dominick's parish, Portland, and subsequently became assistant priest at Waterville, and later was assigned to Lewiston, where he served until he was appointed pastor at Salmon Falls, where he remained for 20 years.

The first parish that came directly to his charge was that at Gorham, this state, where he did a wonderful work as a missionary, covering a territory of over a hundred miles in which was included the parish of Berlin Falls. There he built the first Catholic church and his work there for God's kingdom on earth speaks for itself. He was appointed pastor at Salmon Falls in 1880, and during that long term of years had conducted the affairs of the parish in such a systematic manner that his record led directly to his appointment here when the different priests of the diocese were considered as available men for Portsmouth.

Father Walsh took charge of this parish in August, 1907. Since coming here he has reduced the outstanding indebtedness of the parish some $25,000. He had some 500 families under his care and there are about 500 pupils in the parochial school, with twelve Sisters of Mercy, employed as teachers.

He was a hard worker for the good of his church and people, and was beloved by his parishioners, and widely respected by the citizens of Portsmouth generally, without regard to religious affiliations. He took an active interest in local affairs, as a good citizen ought, and was ever ready to further any worthy cause.

He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Public Library up to June, 1914, and also one of the incorporators of the Mark W. Wentworth Home, for which he acted on the finance committee of that institution.

In his death, this parish has lost three permanent rectors in fifteen years. The Rev. Fathers Finnegan and Walsh dying while in charge, and the Rt. Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan passing to his reward, after taking the place of Vicar General and pastor of St. John's parish at Concord. The last named clergyman was in charge here for a period of twenty-five years.

Paris, March 23.—After striving for six hours to attack Paris under cover of darkness, an air fleet of German Zeppelins retreated to the north at 3 o'clock this morning with a squad of French aeroplanes in pursuit.

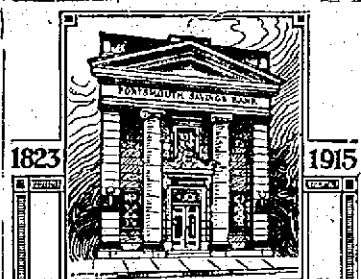

Bombs were dropped from the German airships upon a number of towns and villages around Paris. The explosions caused no loss of life although considerable damage was done to property. All the German aircraft made their escape.

Vienna, via Berlin and Amsterdam, March 23.—That 15,000 troops of the garrison of Przemyśl succeeded in escaping from the besieged fortress and joining the main Austrian forces on the upper San river, is the assertion made in dispatches from Cracow today. The officers declare that only a few of the forces remained when the stronghold surrendered. "After accomplishing its main purpose," said the statements, "that of holding back the Russian army until the Austrian and German forces in the Carpathian front had made preparations necessary to meet the main Russian army, the garrison surrendered."

(Special to The Herald)
Petrograd, March 23.—Official announcements made here today state that the Germans are preparing to lift the siege of Ossowlec. The fire from the siege artillery has become weaker and many of the heavy siege batteries have been withdrawn. It is believed at the war office that this forebodes a general retirement of German forces from the Dnieper river front.

the hands of the Russians, the Russian army which captured this stronghold after a siege of several months has already been set in motion westward against Cracow, the only city in Galicia remaining in Austrian possession.

A gigantic offensive movement is being launched by the Russians all along the line and the indications are that one of the biggest battles yet fought on Austrian soil is developing. Estimates of the number of Austrian prisoners taken varies, but a dispatch from Lemberg states that more captives were taken than was at first believed, and that the number may reach 100,000.

BASEBALL SEASON NEAR OPENING

Sunset League Directors Take Up Matter of Ground Improvement With Board of Public Works.

The baseball fans are already getting busy for the opening of the local Sunset League season. The directors of the league have taken the matter of teams up with the various heads and there is a live interest all around. The grounds will be improved and the directors will go over the matter with the Board of Public Works as to expending the fund now in the hands of the treasurer of the League. It is none too early for the men to get into shape as all indications are for a lively season.

THINKS FIRE WAS INCENDIARY

Mrs. Shedd of Manchester Threatened to Shoot; Fire Followed.

Manchester, March 23.—A two and a half story house, L. barn, and shed, owned and occupied by Charles L. Shedd and family at 222 Wellington road were destroyed by fire tonight, with the larger part of the contents, causing a loss placed at $4500.

The nearest hydrant was half a mile distant and before water could be had the buildings were flat.

Mrs. Shedd says she heard somebody in the barn early in the evening, and procuring a revolver called upon the intruder to come forth or she would shoot. There was no response and several minutes afterward the barn was found on fire.

FINE EGG RECORD

the well known poultry fancier, has secured 194 eggs from four Wyandotte pullets since January 1st up to date. During January they laid 80 eggs; during February 69, and in March, up to date 45 eggs. This is a good record and one of which Mr. Rose may well feel proud.

Champion Featherweight Kilbane Would Like To Tackle Freddie Welsh For Lightweight Title

KILBANE

New York, March 23.—Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, who handed out a trouncing to Kid Williams in a ten round bout some time in the near future. A battle between these two men should be worth watching, as they are two of the cleverest men that have ever appeared in the ring. There are many who believe Kilbane would not experience much difficulty in out-pointing Welsh in a ten round contest. Kilbane handed out a severe beating to Williams in their recent bout. The matter is now up to Welsh. As the promoters in New York are willing to stage such a battle it is more than likely that the men will meet in a ten round bout some time in the near future. Clerk—Miss Emma Foss. Member of school board for ensuing three years—Willard M. Jeanness.

Two years—Mrs. Agnes W. Perkins. One year—Wallace S. Goss.

Treasurer—Frederick D. Parsons. It was voted to appropriate the sum of $1800 more than was appropriated last year, $2000, making a total of $7800.

Reports of the agents, auditors, committees and officers were read and accepted. The work of the school officials is entirely satisfactory. It was also voted to pay the moderator and clerk the sum of $2.00 each for their services on that afternoon.

It is estimated that Rye will send about forty pupils into the Portsmouth High school at the beginning of the fall term.

The increase in appropriation makes an increase in the tax rate of something like $1.25 on the $1000. The citizens of the town seem well satisfied with the condition of the schools.

Schools of the town closed on Friday for the two weeks' Spring vacation.

Mrs. T. Ira Marden of Rye Beach will be able to be removed to her home this week after treatment in the Portsmouth Hospital.

The many friends of Norman Parsons of Rye Center will be pleased to know that his condition is much improved and he is very comfortable at present at the Portsmouth Hospital.

Mr. Curtis Mallon of Spencetown, this state, passed the week-end as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Emily Jeanness of Rye Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton D. Marden, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Walker spent Sunday in Amesbury, Mass., as the guests of Mrs. Walker's relatives.

Mr. John A. Parsons, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology passed the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Langdon B. Parsons of Rye Beach.

William Brown of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology passed the week-end as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Brown of Rye Beach.

Miss Bernice Remick has accepted a position as dressmaker at the Drake and Hodgdon dressmaking establishment in Portsmouth.

Representative Frederick D. Parsons left this morning for Concord to attend this week's session of the legislature.

NOTICE.

This is to certify that Brown, the tailor, located at Freeman's Block, has no longer the sole agency for Odams & Co.'s dyeing and cleansing establishment for Portsmouth and vicinity and he does not accept this work from now on, as this agency has been given over to Mr. Michaelson, 117 Market street, and from March 8 he will gladly accept all work for Odams & Co., who guarantee this work.

Unenforced Laws.

A prominent New York state newspaper recently published an editorial dealing with the multiplicity of laws and the growing tendency to attempt to regulate all things, even the personal affairs of the people, by law. It enumerated a long list of laws that read well, but which are violated with impunity every day in the year. A stranger in this country reading a list of its laws would conclude that nothing wrong could be done here without swift and condign punishment, but that such is not the case is a matter of common knowledge. The editorial referred to ends with this question: "And when will people learn that it is not possible to make people good by passing laws telling them to do those things which they do not naturally choose to do?"

The mere fact that laws are broken does not signify that there should be no laws, but there is much to indicate that we have too much law. Law to be effective must be enforced, and when laws are enacted faster than the authorities are able or willing to enforce them it is time to stop piling up statutes and to give attention to the enforcement of such laws as are necessary for the regulation of community affairs.

The passion for law making which has been so much in evidence for some years, and which is still manifest in practically every state in the Union, has resulted in loading the statute books with a mass of laws for some of which the public has little respect, and any law that does not command public respect is a dead letter. That is one of the troubles in this country today. Too many of its laws are dead letters.

A change in this particular field is highly desirable and would be very beneficial. This paper repeats what it has said before, that one of the urgent needs of this country is better enforcement of the laws. We are surfeited with law and are constantly suffering from the lack of its proper enforcement. Less legislation and a tightening of the screws at the enforcement end would be of benefit to practically every community in the land.

Here is a broad field for reform, and the sooner it is recognized the better will it be for society. Fewer laws and more rigid enforcement is one of the crying needs of the time. The public should understand that the laws mean what they say and that they mean the same to all men, regardless of social, political or financial standing.

Speaker Clark praises President Wilson highly, classing him with the great presidents who can be counted on the fingers of one hand. This does not look as though he had any intention of being a candidate for the nomination against Wilson in the next democratic national convention, and there is no reason to believe he will be. President making is a game that many play between conventions, but when the time comes to show the cards most of the players are found to hold losing hands.

A German professor advocates the use of horses killed in the army for meat. He says horseflesh is used by the poorer classes even in time of peace, that it makes a fairly good substitute for beef and that the carcasses of horses that are wounded and have to be killed should be used for food. In a country that uses horseflesh in times of peace this contention should have force under the conditions that now exist.

A battle has been taken from the water containing a kiss sent by a soldier in one of the foreign armies to his wife and child in this country, it having been thrown overboard when he was on his way across the ocean. The American people have long been familiar with bottled "smiles," but, so far as known, this is the first instance of a bottled kiss that has come to their notice.

A New York crowd applauded Harry K. Thaw when his acquittal on a conspiracy charge was announced, and all will recall the tremendous crowd and cheering that greeted him in Boston when he passed through that city on his way from New Hampshire. The disposition to applaud without rhyme or reason is not confined to any one city.

The federal law restricting the sale of drugs is causing great hardship to many. Numerous suicides have resulted and many victims of the drug habit are flocking to the hospitals for treatment. It is a trying time, but great is the evil it is sought to remove, and it is only to be hoped that the results will come up to expectations.

GERMAN AVIATORS AID ARTILLERY

Paris, March 23.—German aviators have added to the devastation wrought in Rheims by the bombardment of the Kaiser's artillery. They threw several bombs upon the Russians Monday, and killed three civilians, says an official statement made by the war office today. The statement also reports some progress in Champagne, and the repulse of two German counter attacks.

French Battleship Sunk and Type Of Turkish Fort In Dardanelles

Photos by American Press Association.

The destruction of the French battleship Bouvet and the two British battle cruisers Irresistible and Ocean by floating Turkish mines in the Dardanelles during a bombardment of the land guns by the allied fleet was the first serious blow delivered by the Turks. One of these pictures shows a fort in the Dardanelles. Some of these forts have been silenced by the warships, but others are still active and effective, as evidenced in the case of the French battleship Gaulois and the British battle cruiser Indefatigable. The Bouvet is here shown.

CAPT. JOHN H. PRUETT IS AGAIN HONORED

Former Kittery Man Re-elected President of American Association Masters, Mates and Pilots.

Captain John H. Pruett of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of Kittery, was elected President of the American Association of Masters, Mates and Pilots, at the National Convention which was held in the New Albany Hotel, Washington, D. C., opening Monday, March 15th, and closing Saturday, March 20th, late in the evening.

The following are the other officers elected:

First Vice President—Captain George B. Downing of Norfolk, Va.

Second Vice President—Captain W. E. Daniels, Jr., Savannah, Ga.

Third Vice President—Captain Warren N. Phinney, Kittery, Me.

Fourth Vice President, Captain R. F. Laverder, Baltimore, Md.

Treasurer—Captain A. B. Davlin, Jersey City, N. J.

Secretary—Captain M. D. Tennison, Camden, N. J.

Trustee for three years—Captain R. M. Laverder, Boston, Mass.

This will be Captain Pruett's fifth term of office, which as the election was unanimous shows how highly his services are valued. A noble man, respected by all who know him, from the various departments in Washington, to the sailor before the mast, he is held in great esteem by the several officers who have shared his labors for the past few years.

After Capt. Pruett was installed he spoke very feelingly of the loyal manner in which he had been supported in the past, and made a very able talk on the needs of the Association, present and future. The Association is in a very healthy state and the membership is increasing very fast at this time.

Delegates were present from all parts of the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts and the Great Lakes, and large rivers. Representing all classes of deck officers in the Merchant Marine.

Besides the usual routine, much business of a new and important nature was brought before the convention.

A very cordial invitation was read from Secretary of Commerce, Ireland, to meet and confer with him. The convention in a body appeared before the United States Supervising Inspectors of the Steamboat Inspection Service, who are in convention at this time in Washington.

Many matters of interest to the Association and the members of the Association were talked over with (continued) benefit to all.

Supervising Inspector General, George Uller was in the chair and among those present were Supervising Inspectors, Seely, now of New York, formerly of Boston, and Eugene O'Donnell, who is the present incumbent of the Boston office. Many old acquaintances were renewed and a profitable hour was spent.

Ident. S. P. Edmunds, U. S. R. C. S., retired, appeared before the convention and explained the good qualities and benefits of the Universal Life Insurance, which have received the approval of the Navy and Revenue Services.

H. L. Stone, editor of "Outing", also of "The Master Mate and Pilot", the official organ of the Association, addressed the convention in a very able manner and also spoke of the success of the paper.

Captain Herbert C. Graves, Nautical Expert, Coast and Geodetic Survey, addressed the convention, requesting the opinion of the members as to changing the markings of certain charts from fathoms to feet. Captain Graves has had charge of the work of bringing out the latest edition of the Coast Pilot, Part IV, Point Judith to New York, a very able work.

Saturday morning, a committee waited on Secretary of the Navy, Daniels, and were accorded a very pleasant reception. Especially so as none of the committee were from the state of the long leaf pine. Among the matters presented was the request that the members of the Merchant Marine could be given opportunity to receive training on board ships in the navy, during such times as they were not otherwise employed.

The committee was instructed to inform Mr. Daniels that the Association endorsed the proposed Naval Reserve Bill. The secretary listened with attention and requested that the committee meet Admiral Blue and, with the matter over, with him.

It was also suggested that the enlisted crews of navy yard tow boats be replaced by men from civil life, thereby increasing the number of men for ships by a considerable number.

Later the committee called on Secretary of War Garrison and were very cordially received. Mr. Garrison promised to look into and do all in his power to further the several plans submitted.

The members will always carry very pleasant recollections of their visits to the several departments of the government.

CLAN-NA-GAEL PASS RESOLUTIONS

At a recent meeting of the Clan-na-Gael of this city the following resolutions were adopted:

First—That Ireland is entitled to an independent existence as a separate and wholly self-governing nation; that she has all the attributes of a nation—geographical position, natural resources, a homogeneous, highly gifted and courageous people, fully capable of governing themselves and defending their independence if once freed from English domination, which has fettered their energies and stifled their natural growth.

Second—That England has forfeited even the rights of conquest by gross misuse of her power, by oppression of the people, by misgovernment deliberately intended to destroy Ireland's industries, to keep her in perpetual poverty, to prevent the normal growth of her population, the development of her great natural resources and the proper utilization of her splendid position commanding the great highways of commerce between Europe and the Western Hemisphere.

Third—That the measure of self-government provided by the so-called Home Rule Bill, which is not in force, it has been postponed until the end of the present European war for a sinister purpose, is a fraud and a cheat, intended to deceive the world by a false name. It preserves and reaffirms all the evils of English rule, has nothing of the federal principle, maintains intact the complete predominance of the Imperial Parliament and English control of Irish finances, expressly prohibits any action for the revival or promotion of Irish industries which England has destroyed, and it is supplemented by an amending bill excluding from the authority of the Dublin legislature the Protestant portion of Ulster for the bogus purpose of perpetuating the religious strife which England introduced into Ireland and has continuously and deliberately fostered.

Fourth—That Ireland having forfeited none of her natural and inherent rights to nationhood by the action of her own people, and being deprived of those rights only by the English military occupation and the power of the British navy, she is entitled in this hour of England's difficulty, to make alliances with England's enemies and to seek the assistance of their armed forces, as she did in the past with Spain, France, the Italian Republic, Russia and the United States, in the confident belief that the valor of her own sons is fully capable of accomplishing her independence.

We, therefore, fully approve the Alliance between Germany and Ireland and call on our countrymen throughout the world to do their utmost to aid in bringing about a joint victory over our common enemy. Such a victory would insure the freedom of the sea and remove the greatest menace to power to further the several plans submitted.

CURRENT OPINION

America Must Manufacture
Goods Formerly Imported.

America's opportunity is in the industrial life. Instead, therefore, of being as for years past the best customer of Germany and other foreign nations the United States should immediately become its own best customer and purchase from our own manufacturers all these thousand and one articles heretofore produced abroad.

The government of the United States must stand by both American labor and capital where necessary to accomplish these results.

We took with sorrow and regret on this tremendous conflict in foreign lands, but we cannot fail but realize that for years to come the contending nations will be engaged in rebuilding that which is now being torn down and that America in the meantime must not only supply its own markets, but in many things the markets of the world.—By Norman E. Mack, Editor and Politician.

STATE NOW HAS CIVIL SERVICE LAW

Six states, namely Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York and Wisconsin, now have civil service laws providing for appointment of highway engineers and employees in accordance with the merit system. A description of the system in effect in each of the six states appears in the Good Roads Year Book just issued by the American Highway Association at Washington. The summary of automobile legislation in all the states is of timely interest in view of the fact that nearly 1,300,000 automobiles were registered in the United States during 1914 for which more than $25,000,000 in license fees was paid.

A majority of the states are now trying out the plan of working convicts on public roads. In some states the honor system prevails and guards are partially or wholly dispensed with. In other states guards are deemed essential, and between the two systems much controversy rages. The Year Book, with its complete digest of convict labor laws for all the states and as many references throw much light on the subject. That convict labor will go far toward solving the road problem is demonstrated by the experience of Georgia with its army of nearly six thousand road convicts and Virginia with about fifteen hundred. The progress reports from these two states, appearing in the chapter devoted to highway progress show remarkable gains in mileage of improved roads. The American Highway Association finds the Year Book one of its most effective mediums for carrying on the campaign for efficient and adequate improvement in the construction, maintenance and administration of the public roads.

GERMAN MINISTER TO CHINA HAS STRANGE ADVENTURES

Peking, March 23.—After a series of adventures such as adorn the pages of novels, Admiral von Hintze, the new German Minister to China, has just installed himself in the legation here. He came from Honolulu as the supercargo in the Scandinavian tramp steamer Christian Bors and was brought by special train, as secretly as possible, from Peking to Tientsin; thence by ordinary passenger train to Peking.

GETTING THE GARDEN READY

In March the fancy properly turns towards the garden and lawn.

Time is drawing near when seed must be chosen and the ground made ready. The flowers will bloom just as we prepare for them and preparation means the right choice of seeds, of fertilizer, and of garden utensils, as well as proper application. A good time to consult the advertising columns of this paper. The men who have foreseen your needs generally are eager to advertise the fact.

THE ONLY CORSET DEMONSTRATED AT THE CHICAGO FASHION SHOW WAS

"LaCAMILLE"

THE FRONT LACE CORSET WITH THE
"VENTILO" BACK.

The booth in which La Camille corsets were exhibited occupied a prominent position, and was thronged with visiting buyers and Chicago's fashionable women.

Never before was such interest shown in a corset. The live model demonstrations attracted such crowds of eager women that standing room was at a premium.

Many spoke in appreciation of the "VENTILO" Back feature which prevents pressure on the Spinous Processes, and allows ventilation, and resolved that their next corsets would be La Camille.

We have a complete line of these wonderful corsets, and ladies are cordially invited to come and let our corsetieres fit them and explain their merits.

The model illustrated, 50CR, is made of fine strong coutil, intended for medium and full figures, bust fairly low, long skirt which imparts the straight line effect, and restrains superfluous flesh, has elastic section in bottom of back, tailor trimmed—Price, $5.00.

This model also made in various other materials at from $4.00 to $10.00, and can be furnished at either 11-inch, 12-inch, or 13-inch front clasp. Other models from $3.50 to $5.00.

BIG LOSS AT LITTLETON FIRE

Tilton's Opera Block Ruined, Other Business Blocks Threatened.

Littleton March 22—Tilton's Opera Block valued at about $60,000 was gutted this afternoon by a fire which threatened several other business places on Main street.

Several firemen were injured by flying glass and Mrs. Samuel Hubert was carried from the third floor after she had been overcome by the smoke. The Lisbon Fire Department was called and sent men and hose.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a kerosene stove in a tenement on the third floor and soon spread through the building. The second floor is occupied by others which are entirely wiped out. Five stores on the ground floor have suffered a heavy water damage as eight streams were played on the fire continuously for five hours.

The heaviest losers will be H. B. Johnson, jeweler; E. C. Bailey, clothing; Knights of Pythias; Woodmans Drug Company; Peary Bros., fruit, and Mrs. E. C. Young, milliner.

The entire loss in building and contents will be more than $50,000. All the occupants of the building are insured.

SHED DESTROYED BY FIRE

Kittery Residence Threatened by Early Morning Blaze.

Shortly after five o'clock this morning Mr. Charles Hook, driver for George D. Boulter, who was going to work at the time, noticed smoke and flames coming from the shed on the western end of Long Lane, Kittery, owned by the estate of the late Daniel B. Cook.

Mr. Hook immediately rang the alarm bell of the Second Christian church, summoning the Kittery Volunteer Fire Association to the scene in short order, but too late to save the shed from destruction, as the fire had gained too much headway.

A line of hose was run from a hydrant near the residence of U. G. Swift, and the fire was confined to the shed, due to the good work of the fire department.

The porch of the house caught fire several times, but by constant wetting no great damage was done.

The shed, which was empty at the time, was totally destroyed, with an estimated loss of about $75, covered by insurance. The house has been unoccupied for some time. The origin of the fire is unknown.

RIVERSIDE LODGE ENTERTAINS

Osgood Lodge of This City Given Big Welcome by Kittery Lodge.

Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F. of this city was the guest of Riverside Lodge, No. 72, of Kittery on Monday evening, and were very royally entertained.

The members of Riverside Lodge assembled at Newmarket street at seven o'clock where they met and welcomed the visitors, and escorted them to the hall. During the procession red fire was much in evidence and about 350 men were in line. The following was the route of march: From Newmarket street down Government to Jones avenue, to Central street, to Pine, to Love Lane to Navy Yard station, down Wentworth to Odd Fellows' Hall, where Osgood Lodge entered the hall, passing through the ranks of Riverside Lodge, drawn up in two files.

Upon arrival at the hall an excellent turkey banquet was served by the following committee: Messrs. Chester Boulter, Raymond Packard, Stephen Boulter, Samuel E. Caswell, George H. Marden and Harold Lyden, ably assisted by a sub-committee of willing workers.

The following was the menu:
Roast Turkey Cold Meats
Giblet Gravy
Hot Rolls Pickles
Pies Assorted Cake
Fruit
Coffee Ice Cream
Cigars

Chaplain James R. Philbrick made a prayer at the banquet table and later at the beginning of the entertainment, in behalf of Riverside Lodge, he welcomed the visitors in a very neat speech.

Following the banquet a splendid entertainment was furnished, and the work of four male artists and specialists from Boston, consisting of bell and tumbler ringing, was heartily enjoyed by all present. Two burnt cork artists also kept the assemblage in gales of laughter, with their ready repartee of clean and witty jokes. The third part of the program consisted of a superb exhibition of magic and sleight of hand performance.

Among the large delegation from Osgood Lodge was seen such well known members as Noble Grand, Roy H. Blaney, and Past Grands, John Yeaton, Charles Odiorne, Albert Plummer, Daniel Mason Josiah Varrell, and William Entwistle, Oliver W. Ham, Albert Witham, and many others equally as well known in Odd Fellows circles in this city.

Both lodges turned out in large numbers, and the sociability and generous good time enjoyed by all, showed the friendly and brotherly feeling that has existed so many years between these two flourishing lodges.

The officers of Riverside Lodge, No. 72, are as follows:

Noble Grand, Arthur L. Bowden; Vice Grand, Arthur Sowards; J. E. Grand, Samuel E. Caswell; Recording Secretary, Leon B. Robins; Financial Secretary, Walter L. Lott; Treasurer, Leslie I. Williams; Chaplain, James R. Philbrick; Warden, Asher B. Damon; Conductor, James McAndrews; L. G., Edward Standish; O. G., Samuel Hodgdon; R. S. N. G., Frank L. Parker; L. S. N. G., Wilbur Dame; R. S. V. G., Elmer Pruett; R. S. S., Charles Manson; L. S. S., Edwin Blaisdell.

DEAD MAN FOUND WITH $25,000

St. Johnsbury, Vt., March 22—Curry, bank books and diamonds, amounting to nearly $25,000 was found on the clothing of Thomas R. Tigh, 53 whose body was shipped today to Boston for burial. The man was little known here. He came from Barton six months ago and had worked in local moving picture theatres. He claimed to be a native of Charlestown, Mass., and a former resident of Rumford Falls, Maine, where he said he owned and managed an opera house.

He died Saturday in a room in the Merchants' Bank block where he had lived alone since coming here. A search of his clothing revealed $1400 in money, diamonds valued at $700 and bank books showing a balance of between $15,000 and $20,000. The man's divorced wife arrived today from Boston.

It is said that a paper found in his clothes directed that a part of the property be given to her. He had a brother whose whereabouts are unknown and a cousin living in Newburyport, Mass.

TWENTY CHANGES IN FISH AND GAME LAWS

Committee Sends Long List of Amendments to House.

Concord, March 23—The committee on fish and game sent to the house last night, twenty amendments to the bill to be reported today. If the amendments could be acted on without debate, not more than an hour would be required.

The Judiciary committee had members of the manufacturers and workers in conference on a factory inspection bill. It is understood an agreement was reached. At least numerous changes were made in the Judiciary committee draft of the bill and it will be sent to the house today in all probability. Edwin P. Jones of Manchester, Edward K. Woodworth of Concord and Dwight Hall of Dover appeared for the manufacturers, and Robert Upton, Commissioner Davis and Commissioner Nutting of Concord represented the workers.

Chairman Benjamin W. Conde of the Judiciary committee announced today that the hearings on the New Boston and Maine reorganization bill will begin Wednesday.

BANKRUPT'S PETITION FOR DISCHARGE

In the District Court of the United States for the District of New Hampshire.

In the matter of Lewis F. Soule, Bankrupt. In Bankruptcy, No. 2111.

To the Honorable Edgar Aldrich, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of New Hampshire: Lewis F. Soule, of Salem, in the County of Rockingham, in said District, respectfully represents that on the 24th day of December, last past, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

Wherefore he prays that he may be discharged by the court to have a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate under said bankruptcy acts, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated this seventeenth day of March, A. D. 1915.

LEWIS F. SOULE, Bankrupt.

Order of Notice Thereon.

District of New Hampshire, ss.

On this 18th day of March, A. D. 1915, on reading the foregoing petition, it is—Ordered by the Court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1915, before said court, at Concord, in said district, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Portsmouth Herald, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors notices of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness the Honorable Edgar Aldrich, Judge of the said court, and the seal thereof, at Concord, in said district, on the 18th day of March, A. D. 1915.

PRZEMYSL SURRENDER

THE BIG VICTORY OF WAR

Russians Rejoicing Over the Fall of Fortress--Zeppelin Raid a Big Failure at Calais. Federal Warning on Wheat Shipments-- Germans Repulsed by French

Petrograd, via London, March 22.—It was announced officially this morning that the Gallienau fortress of Przemyśl surrendered to the Russian army.

The news of the fall of the fortress evoked the wildest scenes in Petrograd since the beginning of the war. Crowds thronged the streets and before the government buildings, cheering wildly. The Austrian defenders of Przemyśl were in the last extremity from disease and hunger when they surrendered, according to dispatches to the war office.

Capture of the Austrian fortress au-tomatically releases a Russian army of nearly 100,000 for action in Poland and along the Carpathian front and constitutes perhaps the greatest victory for Russian arms since the beginning of the war. The Austrian garrison that surrendered to Gen. Dzierziewski is reported to number about 50,000.

The siege of Przemyśl an Austrian stronghold, has been under way since the early days of the war. It has been a bitter and relentless siege, which has never been relaxed for a day since the Russians invested the city. Several attempts of the Austrians to raise the siege, the latest of which was made only a short time ago, have failed.

With the fall of Przemyśl the only important fortified town in Galicia which is still in the hands of the Austrians is Cracow, in the northwestern Galicia, close to the German border. In the early days of the war the Russian offensive campaign, as outlined unofficially, contemplated the invasion of Germany through East Prussia on the north and simultaneously into Silesia from Galicia. The Russians succeeded in penetrating Galicia, but the success of the Austrians in holding Przemyśl and Cracow blocked attempts to invade Germany across the Silesian border.

The Russians hemmed in Przemyśl with a ring of troops and artillery. The only communication between the fortress and the outside world was by wireless and by aeroplanes, on which messages and, it is said, some food were carried.

Desperate sorties by the garrison have been unavailing. Here and in fighting south of Tarnow the Austro-German losses in the last 48 hours totalled more than 10,000, it is semi-officially announced.

For the last month rumors have been circulated that the Przemyśl garrison was short of food and ammunition and was about to give up. On the other hand, aviators captured by the Russians while en route with messages to Vienna, indicated the garrison was well supplied and able to hold out for several months.

Within the past 10 days unusual activity has prevailed around the besieged fortress on the side of both the Austrians and the Russians.

Almost daily the Austrian garrison has sallied forth to attack the Russian outposts, which were steadily drawing a tighter ring about the inner forts. The Russian howitzers finally wrecked all the outer forts, and the Russian war office several days ago made the significant announcement that Russian troops were "within rifle shot" of the main defenses.

The Przemyśl inner forts last Friday began a violent bombardment of the Russian positions. This was followed by an energetic attack from the garrison that resulted in heavy losses for the Austrian defenders. Meanwhile, an Austro-German force, advancing through the Lufkow and Czech passes was marching northward, apparently with the view of lifting the siege.

The advancing Austro-Germans were battered and hurled back by the Russians south of Przemyśl. That action carried this news to the besieged city is certain, and it is believed here that the Austrian garrison became disheartened when this word was received and decided to surrender.

Key to Austrian Empire

Przemyśl has been described as the key to the Austrian empire. The opinion has been expressed by Russian commentators that its occupation would facilitate operations against the interior of Austria, which hitherto has been attended by only insignificant results. Beyond Przemyśl lies the grain and prosperous wheat country of Austria.

The city was founded in the eighteenth century and in the 17th century, during an invasion by Tartars, Cossacks, and Swedes, was virtually destroyed. The chief articles of trade are grain and lumber. Milling and the refining of petroleum are carried on there extensively. The city was defended strongly by outer and inner forts, well equipped.

The enemy's entire plan of campaign in the Carpathians apparently has been overthrown. The Slavs have struck crushing blows in the Lufkow and Duka pass regions.

Developments in Poland in the last two days have been equally satisfactory. The Germans have lost large supplies of war munitions, including enough machine guns to equip an entire corps.

The Russians who penetrated northern East Prussia and occupied Memel on the Baltic threw up entrenchments to protect the town from an expected German attack from the south. Russian cavalry entered the village of Karlsberg, three miles south of Memel without opposition. They reported that the Germans who fled from Memel had retreated beyond Prussia, 15 miles south of Memel on the Lithuanian railway.

PORTSMOUTH MAN'S LUCKY FIND

Will Interest Readers of The Herald

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by a Portsmouth man.

Charles E. Oliver, harbor, 45 Coffin Court, Portsmouth, says: "Standing for hours brought a constant strain on my kidneys and I finally began to have kidney complaint. My back was so lame at times that I could hardly work and I was troubled by headaches and spells of dizziness. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box and began using them following the directions closely. The pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney complaint soon left and I felt much better in every way. The cure has since proven to be a permanent one. I advise everyone suffering from disordered kidneys to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

SICK CHILDREN LOVE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Give "Candy Cathartic" for a bad cold, sour stomach, constipation.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become nervous, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, fidgety, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little ones' already sick stomachs—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets "Candy Cathartic" which not gently—never grips or produces the slightest unpleasantness—though cleanses the little one's system, sweetens the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

Calais, via Paris, March 22.—The third Zeppelin attack on this city, timed at almost the precise hour of the aerial raid on Paris early Sunday morning, was made ineffective, because the whirling of the airships' motors gave adequate warning of their approach.

The Zeppelins came from the direction of the sea, but received such a vigorous bombardment from French artillery that they retreated before they reached the city. It is supposed here they intended making another effort to drop bombs in the harbor and on the railroad junction.

London, March 22.—An Amsterdam (Spain) today reported that a Zeppelin was wrecked at Ligez Saturday. No further details were given.

VERY ABLE ADDRESS AT WARWICK SMOKER

The members of the Warwick Club enjoyed another of the delightful smoke talks, which have been so successful this winter on Monday evening.

The speaker was Dr. Lincoln Wirt, who had for his subject "The Conquest of the Arctic" and there are few men living who are so well qualified to speak from experience on this subject. His exploits may be better summed up in the words of Robert Lincoln O'Brien, of the Boston Herald.

"Dr. Wirt has a long string of letters after his name that have been given him by the great scientific and geographic bodies of this country and abroad, but the great work of this life and modest little Californian has been accomplished in Alaska, where he has territorial superintendent of education in the years following the discovery of gold there. He established the public schools that are nearest the North Pole and also established the first hospital in northern Alaska. But the thing that made him honored as a hero in all that great territory was his wonderful journey of 1200 miles southward over untracked snow and ice, in the dead of an Arctic night, to get relief for a disease-infested camp on the shores of Behring Strait. The story of that journey, with only a dog team and Eskimo companions, with its hardships and almost starvation, and its dangers from wolves, a treacherous riddle, Eskimos who had never seen a white man before, and the icy mountains, is one of the most thrilling chapters in the whole long story of adventure and pioneering. They tell it in Alaska with ever increasing wonder that he ever had the strength and pluck to reach his goal, when even his faithful dogs died on the way of hardship and hunger."

Dr. Wirt is an interesting talker, and he kept the attention of his audience all of the time, with his vivid account of life in the Arctic regions, especially during the early days of the rush of the gold seekers to Alaska. His talk was illustrated with some magnificent views.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, March 22.—Some of the plans of the Federal Reserve board are being made public through the Governor, U. S. Hamilton, is being received with a great deal of interest by New England bankers. The plans as announced are not only of importance to the member banks of the Federal Reserve system, but are just as important to the outside banks, as a readjustment of banking practice as pertaining to commercial paper, new system of bank clearings, is expected to follow.

Among the plans announced is one stating that the Federal Reserve Board has taken important steps towards standardizing commercial paper, with the result that good paper throughout the country is in process of being rendered uniform and hence generally marketable thereby insuring lower prices to actual borrowers. This means that there will be some standard set as to the requirements commercial paper must meet before being accepted by the banks. It means a uniform quality of commercial paper upon which loans can be secured at a minimum of interest to discount. Governor Hamilton also states that the Federal Reserve Board has devised and will shortly establish a system of bank clearings which is expected to do much to remove the inequalities and excesses inherent in the present system of exchange. Under the present system, banks especially country banks make a charge upon the collection of checks from other out of town banks. This charge varies and in different sections of the country. The proposed plan by the Federal Reserve Board would establish a ruling under which such checks would be paid.

The belief that further public hearings will be had on the new draft of the Boston and Maine reorganization bill was expressed by Chairman Hobbs of the Committee on Railroads. Although the committee has not yet had time to go over the new draft as prepared by the Public Service Commission, Chairman Hobbs stated that he felt it might be necessary to hear the matter further in order that all parties interested might have an opportunity to express their opinion as to whether or not the Public Service Commission's bill is an improvement on the original bill.

With a view to keeping Boston harbor and its vicinity the best regulated, in so far as motor boats are concerned in the country, Surveyor of the Port, Joseph H. Maynard has planned a distinct innovation for the coming season by having officers in the customs service address the meetings of the various yacht clubs in the vicinity, for the purpose of informing members thoroughly to the laws and regulations pertaining to the operation of power propelled craft. Unremitting warfare will be waged against the violators of the Federal regulations this summer.

Boston, March 22.—Some interesting insights on the career of Max von Hindenburg are contained in a biography of the leader of Germany's eastern forces just issued by his brother who takes the pen name of Bernhard von Bunsdorf.

The future hero of all Germany fought through the war of 1866 and later the Franco-Prussian war. Included in the book are letters sent by von Hindenburg to his parents from the front. Shortly after the beginning of the war of 1866 Hindenburg wrote:

"It is high time for the Hindenburgs to smelt powder. Our family has been singularly neglected in that respect."

"Sorry as I am for not having had an opportunity to see you once more before going to the front, I am happy. On the other hand, when I look into the future so full of promise and real life, for a soldier, war is the normal thing, and I know that God watches over me."

"If I die it will be the most beautiful and honorable death; if I am wounded I will have done my best, and if I return unharmed, so much the better."

In another letter written a few days later, Hindenburg says:

"My highest aim has been reached. I have smelt powder; I have heard the bullets whistle, all kinds of them, grenades, shrapnel, rifle bullets. I have been slightly wounded on different occasions, but I am still here."

"Above all my beloved parents, I have experienced God's love and mercy to Him for glory into eternity. Amen."

Soon after this was written Hindenburg came within an inch of being killed. He describes his experience as follows:

"A bullet pierced the eagle on my helmet, struck my head without wounding me severely and came out behind the eagle. I fell unconscious; my men gathered around me, thinking me dead. Half an hour later the bullet would have penetrated the brain and I would be lying on the battlefield."

On September 23, 1870, Hindenburg wrote:

"We are still before Paris in our old position from which we can hardly move forward on account of the forts. The decisive attack to my mind must come from the West, from Versailles, toward the Bois de Boulogne. Today the great defenders of Paris are shooting salvoes of bombs—of course without hitting any one or anything. The good people at least want to have done something to defend themselves. If I had not so much to do I would be quite comfortable in the trenches. The only thing we are in need of is candles."

PREPARE FOR COAST DEFENSE EXERCISE

Concerned March 22.—Plans for the examinations for non-commissioned officers who desire to participate in the coast defense exercises next September are outlined in general orders issued today from the adjutant general's department. The provisions of the order are as follows:

Enlisted specialists in the coast artillery corps will be examined by a board of officers May 10, 1915, to be appointed from this office upon questions furnished by the war department. The commanding officer of the coast artillery corps will make arrangements for conducting the instruction of these enlisted specialists assigning them for instruction, and for the use of textbooks and appliances as far as practicable with the organization in the places where they reside. A preliminary examination will be held at the headquarters of the coast artillery corps at Portsmouth at some date appointed by the commanding officer of the corps, the engineer officer and the adjutant. Recent inspections have shown good interest and work by large sections in the various companies and it is believed that quite a number of men by a little instruction between now and the date of the examination can qualify in these grades which will be both creditable to them and the service. Progressive schools in each company should be held under the direction of the company commanders, for those men who desire to take these examinations.

NO MORE ADVERTISING IN RAILROAD STATIONS

Controversy Over Women Suffrage Posters Leads to the Drastic Order.

One of the most drastic orders issued by the Boston and Maine railroad has recently come from the office of General Superintendent Tyler to all agents of the company. According to reports, the order is the result of a protest made by the women of the Equal Suffrage Society at Concord, N. H., and started over the refusal of the railroad to allow them to hang up a map in the depot there, indicating the gains, etc., made in the several states of the country for suffrage. The map is printed in yellow, black and white colors and large in size. This led to a general order affecting every station on the system. Every form of advertising has been tabooed with the exception of railroad time tables. Church directories will be seen no more in the waiting rooms. The W. C. T. U. and Christian Science literature have been assigned to the waste basket, even the recruiting posters of Uncle Sam must go with the rest, and the bills of the big theatres in Boston that have been hung in and about depots for twenty-five years or more, have been ordered removed. The general superintendent was led to give his drastic order, after the Equal Suffrage Society had complained because it was not allowed to put up at the Concord depot its large yellow, black and white map, which is used to indicate the suffrage gains in the several states. While the controversy started in Concord, the order of Superintendent Tyler applies to all stations on the Boston and Maine system. General Agent A. F. Grant has already complied with the order and says he will carry it out to the letter. An effort will likely be made to retain the church directories. In the meantime the Portsmouth depot will be ornamented only with "Safety First" signs and regular time tables.

NAVY YARD NEWS

Department Takes a Stand
It is reported that an attempt has been made by those interested in the Boston yard to have some of the boat work planned for Portsmouth sent there, and that Boston was anxious to get four of the 35-foot cutters. The department is said to have turned down such a move, and stated that the work here was very satisfactory, and that the Industrial Department had established a record for boat construction that convinced the heads of the navy that it would be unwise to interfere in any way with such work for Portsmouth.

Expecting the Montana
Personal information received at the yard today has it that the U. S. S. Montana may arrive here within the next two weeks.

Commended Boatwains
The secretary has written letters of commendation to Boatwain Michael J. Wilkinson, commanding the Potomac, well known in this city, and Boatwain Lewis H. Cutting, serving on board the Potomac, for service performed by them in rescuing a large number of workmen who were marooned on a breakwater at the entrance to Colon Harbor, during a severe storm on February 9, 1915.

Plucking Board Problem
Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, has not yet decided how the department will work out the details of the law passed at the last session of Congress providing for the abolition of the Plucking Board and the restoration of "plucked" officers. There are some problems with respect to back pay for these officers.

For Monday and Tuesday "The Black Box"—Second episode. This is entitled "THE HIDDEN HANDS".

Our patrons are still discussing the first installment of this baffling mystery. The feature of this issue is the very mysterious way in which a beautiful diamond necklace is torn from a lady's throat, by a pair of hands, by some unknown, as well as unseen force. Featuring Anna Little and Herbert Rawlinson.

"Shanty's Secret"—Broncho, two reels. Anyone who has followed the wild adventures of our popular Shanty, knows that he is a young man who gets himself into some fearful scrapes, but by his pluck and grit he manages to come out triumphant. "Haunted Hearts"—Gold Seal, two reels.

This is a beautiful story of the sea, featuring Cleo Madison. The different scenes in this picture were posed for and taken in the Honolulu Islands. "A Day That is Dead"—Majestic, two reels.

A beautiful picture woven out of Tennyson's poem, entitled "Break, Break, Break." It is a tale which leaves a lasting impression. "Some Nightmares"—Joker comedy.

"Hogan's Wrist"—Keystone comedy. Coming Wednesday and Thursday: "The Exploits of Blaine," episode No. 3; "The Reckon," Big U, two reels; "Justified," American, two reels; "The Man at the Key," Domino, two reels; "Lizzie's Dizzy Career," Nestor; "Willful Ambrose," Keystone comedy.

Tuesday evening, glide dancing only, at the Portsmouth Theatre.

that have not been worked out, and no action will be taken by Mr. Daniels until these are disposed of.

When the Plucking Board provision was inserted in the Naval Appropriation bill, the prediction was made that difficulties would be encountered in the restoration of the officers and this prediction has been fulfilled. However, Mr. Daniels says he hopes to make an announcement of his policy some time in the near future.

Navy May Take Hit
The reason for the inspection of the coast guard cutter Woodbury being made here is to see if the navy department will accept her for purposes of training naval militia. The Woodbury is one of the oldest cutters in the service and was considered the best of her type for many years. The bureau of commerce and labor is to turn the vessel over as they find her no longer serviceable for their work.

OBSEQUIES.
Sarah M. Hanscom. The funeral of Mrs. Sarah M. Hanscom, widow of the late Justin Van Ness Hanscom, was held from her late home on Islington street this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by the Rev. Alfred Gooding and several selections were beautifully rendered by the Masonic quartet, Messrs. C. W. Gray, H. P. Montgomery, Ernest Cook and John Mitchell.

Beautiful floral tributes from the friends of Mrs. Hanscom, both from out of town and residents, paid mute testimony to the high esteem in which she was held. Organizations of every sort sent tributes and hosts of friends from many different places attended. Capt. William J. Hill, John W. Emery, E. W. Hartford and Albert Hunt acted as pallbearers.

Interment was at the family lot at South cemetery under the direction of Funeral Director O. W. Ham.

HAD HIS EYE REMOVED
Captain Marden Undergoes Serious Operation.

Captain F. E. Marden, underwent an operation on Monday at the hands of Dr. Towle and Lance and had his right eye removed. He is resting comfortably and the attending physicians do not anticipate any serious results.

DO WE CARE FOR THE REPUTATION OF PORTSMOUTH?

Last summer several distinguished women from other parts of the country visited our city and were much disappointed in it. They had heard of its historic interest and had expected to find a beautiful, dignified, old town, but its untidy appearance with papers and refuse allowed to collect on the sidewalks and in the streets obscured its dignity and beauty and they went away with a changed idea of the place.

However, our legislators think women's help is unnecessary.
